2. Website content

The Pulping website (<https://pulping-prima.eu>), was developed for the purpose of publicizing the project to external stakeholders. This tool was developed and will be updated throughout the execution of the project by the promoter IPB. However, all the partners of the project will be responsible for contributing with information, so that the website is always up to date. The website is composed by various menus that allow the user to acquire a more profound knowledge of the project, to have contact with opportunities related to the Pulping project and subsequently be aware of the projects results.

The menus present in the project website are:

The initial page: where the project Pulping is briefly presented, as well as the news related to the project. In this first section is found the subscription to the project Newsletter, which has news and relevant information related to the project. Finally, the initial page has the contacts of the Coordinator of the project.

The project: this section is composed of two separators, namely: About and Consortium. In the About section is found a more detailed description of the project and the objectives (general and specific). In the Consortium section are presented the project coordinator and all the eight partners, with the respective links to the institution's websites.

Research and Innovation: in this section are publicized some of the project's results, namely the public deliverables, reports, technical and scientific publications. In this section there is also a multimedia gallery featuring the work in progress.

Contacts: this section contains the address, telephone number and email of the project coordinator (Lillian Barros, IPB).

Login: this section contains the login form for all partners of the PulpIng project to access the website and contribute with documents and information relevant to the project.

Privacy policy: this section informs the users of their rights, guarantees, using, processing and the security limits of the existing personal data, when they navigate through the website. It is therefore an added value for the credibility of the website data among the users.
